CAMPBELL BY ACCLAMATION.

Harmony and Patriotism Triumphant—Helm and Smith Withdrew in McIntire's Favor, and Judge Bissell Yielded to Judge Campbell—The Auditor Will Be From West of the Range—Senators Teller and Wolcott Address the Convention as Did Also Mrs. Foster

Special to The Gazette:

Denver, Sept. 12—The convention has adjourned until to morrow morning without completing its ticket but enough has been done to insure the nomination of the best and strongest ticket that has ever been put before the people of Colorado

So far as named the ticket is as follows.

For Supreme Judge John Campbell of El Paso

For Governor—A. W. McIntire of Conejos

For Lieutenant-Governor Jud Brush of Weld.

For Secretary of State—A B McGaffey of Arapahoe.

For Treasurer—Harry E. Mulnix of Las Animas

There are only four more nominations to be made and they will probably not take long when the convention re-assembles.

The probable nominee for Auditor is Cliff Parks of Glenwood, although it is possible that Ed. Price of Grand Junction may be named instead. But the most important offices have been filled and the rest is not so interesting as what has occurred to-day.

Briefly summarized the events of the day have been three noteworthy speeches by Senator Wolcott, Senator Teller and Mrs. Foster, the nomination of the candidates above mentioned and a brief but weighty speech by the next Governor, McIntire. Senator Wolcott's speech was brief and to the point, Senator Teller's was long and gave a history of the legislation of the past four years on the silver question Mrs Foster's was in her own inimitable style, and was not inferior to those of either of the masculine predecessors on the platform. In one respect at least she was far superior to both: and that was in the note of unswerving loyalty to the party which rang through the whole address

There was another speech also by a Mrs. Marble of New Mexico, who quite captured her audience at first by her clear use of technical mining terms to describe the present political situation but afterwards wearied them by her studied attempts at fancy flights of rhetoric. as Bob Mullen expressed it after an exceptionally lofty flight into the blue empyrean of rhetorical sound, "She is too eloquent"

The climax of the day's proceedings it is only fair to say, was the nomination of Harry Mulnix for State Treasurer. Neither Senator Wolcott nor Senator Teller, neither Mrs Foster nor Mr McIntire received such a tumultuous outburst of applause as greeted the one-legged man from Las Animas as he stood upon the stage with his crutches and made his simple speech of thanks. El Paso voted solidly for Walpole in accordance with the agreement made last night, but when it was evident that Mulnix had the majority both El Paso and Pueblo enthusiastically endorsed his nomination It is a curious fact and one which shows the extent of the Republican confidence, that the hardest office and the one to which it is going to be most difficult to get elected in view of the fact that Barela has both the Populist and Democratic nomination should be the one most eagerly sought and upon which the great contest of the convention was made

W. G. Smith did the handsome thing and did it gracefully by throwing the solid vote of his county for McIntire and having his spokesman move the nomination of his rival by acclamation That is the kind of Republicanism that is prevalent this year It is everything for harmony, for party success, and for the redemption of Colorado and nothing for individual ambitions and preferences That has been the spirit throughout and to-night everybody is happy in the firm conviction that the ticket named to-day is sure to be ratified at the polls in November

The example was set by Judge Helm last evening and it is just to say for him, that to him more than to any other one man is due the spirit of harmony and self-sacrifice for the good of the party and the state which now prevails His magnanimous withdrawal in favor of McIntire started the stampede which led to the nomination of the latter by acclamation and made possible the combination which selected McIntire, Campbell and Brush as the three leading names on the ticket.

Mr. Walpole was defeated not because any promises were broken, for they were carried out faithfully, but simply because of the great personal popularity of Mulnix, especially in Arapahoe county which he carried two to one

Colonel Ed Browne is here to day and feels confident of the nomination for Congress on Friday. A. R Brisbin is here too and says he is going to nominate McMorris for District Judge but as Harris has at least 60 out of 91 votes pledged it is hard to see how Brisbin can smash the slate.

Everybody is happy to-night and the air is as full of harmony as it was Monday in Colorado Springs.

We have got a ticket which we can work for enthusiastically, which needs no defense nor apology and which we expect to have ratified at the polls by the largest majority ever given in Colorado (W. A. P

ALMOST UNANIMOUS.

The Convention Did Its Work With Greatest Harmony.

Denver, Sept. 12—The Republican State convention was called order this morning at 11 o'clock and James W McCreery of Greeley chosen temporary chairman Miss Alma Lafferty of Arapahoe and Mrs Dudley were chosen assistant secretaries In the Arapahoe delegation there were a number of women delegates, The distant counties, however, sent but two women to the convention

The convention then resolved that Senators Teller and Wolcott be invited to make an address A motion for a committee to invite them was carried and the chair appointed Mr Williams, Mrs Dr Hatfield of Pueblo and Mrs Dodge of Boulder

Colorado's Senators

The two Senators appears a few moments later, the greatest enthusiasm prevailed and the applause was prolonged until Senator Wolcott stepped to the front of the stage He said that grateful as he was at this cordial welcome and that he was included with his colleague in the exhibition of good feeling, yet he begged to be excused from making a lengthy speech He hoped, however, in the future to see those before him and give an account of his stewardship

The overflowing gathering before him meant that the decent people of Colorado did not mean to surrender this State to the ignorant and grotesque mismanagement of an administration which had already destroyed millions of dollars of valuation and which had made the State the laughing stock of the world He continued, "The State will be saved from the man who had denied the authority of our Government and who has decided for misrule It is citizenship, not party, honor against dishonor, and upon these issues the Republicans will have to win The greatest argument against the Populists is the present State administration which has cost the State thousands of dollars.

"Many who voted for the Populists two years ago will not do so again. They were honest in their opinions and desired to rebuke those whom they thought were hurting their State. During Governor Waite's administration the laborer has received less wages, more mortgages have been foreclosed and while some of the ills were due to the silver legislation, they have been intensified by Governor Waite.

"The Populists claimed to be for silver but they cared no more for it than they did for iron. The tenets of the party called for unlimited paper money.

"I read of a woman at the Populist convention who said she had looked down into the dark, gloomy shafts of the Cripple Creek mines and she did not think men should be compelled to work in them She thought only paper money should be issued [illegible]

"Why, even Senator Peffer favored aluminum money and another Populist thought that the wealth of gold and silver in the mines of the world should be estimated, and that then they be scaled up and paper money issued for the [illegible]

A Silver Party.

"There was a time when others besides ourselves dreamed of a sturdy young party, but two years of the Omaha platform has sickened us of the Populists. When I find that we cannot get free silver through the Republican party, but through another party, I will join that party, and so will you, but it will not be the party of Governor Waite and Mrs. Lease

"With you I love the Republican party and its history, and when we leave it, it will be to different music than the Populist party has yet played.

"Good citizens are justified in casting party lines aside and giving a vote against Waite When the great Democrats were able to defy the party lash in Washington, members of that party can surely do so here and stand for once with us in an effort to lift up this State out of the slough of disaster which Davis H. Waite has placed it in and place it firmly in the pedestal of stability. You have given me the most splendid position in your power My term of office is nearly over and I do not know what the future may bring forth

"I would sacrifice all my chances to return, and retire to private life, if it would save this State from misrule and degradation

"A new element has entered politics and the women of the State must bear their share of the burden. There is no good citizen who does not thank his maker that the women will cast her ballot with him to prevent misrule.

"Since Colorado became a State there has never been an hour when its motto could so easily be invoked as now "Nothing without Divine aid." There must be enough men and women in this State to save it from further misrule.

"I believe that this convention will not listen to the claims of any man for office, but will select citizens who will save the State from misrule"

Senator Teller's Speech.

The conclusion of the speech was greeted with great applause, and then Mr. Teller was introduced The delegates welcomed him with an outburst that shook the building He said.

"I consider this the most important State convention that has ever met in Colorado and I have participated in most of the conventions either as a delegate or as a citizen I can add nothing to what my colleague has said in the redemption of this State It is a question of good government against anarchy; against socialism. As your public servant of nearly 18 years I beg of you to remember that this is a critical time in this history of the State. And we must stand shoulder to shoulder at the polls next November

"The campaign of two years ago was disastrous to our party, but it was more disastrous to this State. Thousands regret the ballot they cast in good faith at that time In my judgment the cause of bimetallism has made more progress in the last 12 months than it has made in any five years of this struggle Little Colorado, small as she is, has had a potent influence on the legislation. She has helped to secure or defeat.

"My colleague and myself have made since the winter of 1889, a struggle for silver legislation"

Here Senator Teller told of the history of the first attempts at legislation. He told of the securing of a passage of a free coinage bill in the spring of 1890 and winter of 1891.

"I was present at the birth of the Republican party and when it shall ally itself with the gold standard absolutely I shall part with that party, not to go to the Populists but to go to some other party which will insure the free coinage of silver

"I don't believe that you can maintain a high degree of civilization with a single standard. One single-standard man East of the Alleghanies voted with us against repeal Mr Cameron of Pennsylvania stood by us in spite of all sorts of pressures (The applause here was terrific)

There is still hope in the Republican party"

Senator Teller then urged his hearers to vote to redeem the State More applause followed the close of Mr. Teller's speech, and then John Leet moved that a recess be taken until 3 o'clock The motion was carried and the credentials committee and committee on order of business immediately went into session in the Brown Palace.

At the afternoon session the convention while waiting for committees to report was addressed by Mrs J. Ellen Foster, who had a most appreciative audience She said among other things "I must soon go to a lower altitude, into States that are so benighted as not to recognize the fact that women have any political rights and do not even dream of the true meaning of the word freedom" She paid Senator Teller a handsome compliment in recognition of his 18 years of faithful service

Mrs. Marble of New Mexico next spoke She styled herself a "Jay from the mining camps," and besprinkled her address with mine s vernacular. Her quaint mixture of political and mining terms was applauded at every period

Nominations were then proceeded with, after the committees reports Hon John Campbell of El Paso County was first nominated for the Supreme bench by acclamation amidst great enthusiasm and the melody 'The Campbells are Coming" by the band.

Mr. Frank Goudy then placed in nomination the name of Hon. A. W. McIntire of Conejos County, saying. 'I have the honor to now name the next Governor of Colorado, who is an honest rancher and miner. Governor Waite never produced anything but a riot on Bull Hill, etc."

There was but one other candidate for Governor named, Hon. W. G. Smith of Jefferson County, and he withdrew and Mr. McIntire's nomination was made by acclamation.

Mr. Judd Brush of Weld County for Lieutenant Governor and Albert B McGaffey of Arapahoe County were both chosen by acclamation.

There was a protracted contest for the office of State Treasurer between Harry E Mulnix of Las Animas County and W. S Walpole of Pueblo. The former was nominated by a small majority, and at 8 o'clock the convention adjourned until 9 to-morrow.

SKETCH OF M'INTIRE.

A Man of No Ordinary Mental Training.

Albert W. McIntire was born in Pittsburg, Pa., Jan 18, 1853, of Scotch-Irish parentage He was graduated from Yale College in 1873, and in 1876 was a graduate of the Yale law school. The same year that he graduated from the law school he was admitted to the bars of Connecticut and Pennsylvania where he practiced for one year and then came to Colorado, settling in Denver in December, 1876. He remained in Denver four years in the practice of law, and then removed to the San Luis valley, where he settled on a farm and has lived until the present time.

In 1883 he was nominated for the office of county judge of Conejos county and was elected without opposition, so great was his popularity in that section of the country. At the close of his term of county judge he took up the adjudication of the water rights of the San Luis country, and for two years devoted his entire attention to the interests of the farmers of that section of the State The farmers have not forgotten this work on his part in their behalf, and they are unanimous in his support as they were when he ran for office in their county. In 1890, when the Twelfth judicial district was created, he was appointed district judge by Governor Routt, and held the office with distinction and credit for himself and his party.

While always an ardent Republican and always successful when he entered into a political fight, Judge McIntire is a farmer and cattle grower, and devotes the greater portion of his time to looking after his farming interests Being a gentleman of birth, education and personal attainments, he is at the same time in touch with the farmer, cattle grower and the laborer, with whom he comes in contact in his walks of life, and no better man for the position of Governor of the great and growing State of Colorado could possibly be found.

Mrs. McIntire is the daughter of the late William Sidney Johnson of New York City, is a lady of refinement, and is devotedly loved by all who know her She will certainly well sustain her position as the first lady of the State Judge McIntire's family consists of himself, his wife, a son 19 years of age, and a daughter aged 7 years.

COLORED MASONS.

Annual Session of the A. F. & A. M. Held in This City.

The M W. grand lodge A F. and A. M. of Colorado and jurisdiction, convened in Masonic hall of Pike's Peak lodge, No 5 of Colorado Springs, on the 10th at 10 o'clock a. m with Grand-Master C R Robinson in the chair Grand secretary, D D Moore of Cheyenne, Wyo, called the roll of lodges A constitutional number being present the grand lodge was opened in ample form.

At the evening session Grand-Master Robinson delivered his annual message, comprising many matters of interest to the craft The address was referred to the committee

At the morning session Tuesday the several committees made their reports showing the grand lodge jurisdiction to be in a healthy condition.

Officers were elected yesterday and last evening at Weber hall a grand banquet was served in their honor.

Judge Jenkins of Milwaukee caused another order to be entered in the Northern Pacific case, giving the receivers until the first Monday Monday in November, 1894, to file their preferential claim against the railway company.

THE GRAND ARMY.

The Encampment at Pittsburg Progresses Finely.

MEETS AT LOUISVILLE NEXT.

Henry Watterson's Eloquence Was Conclusive—The Pension Committee Denounces the Administration—Relief Corps.

Pittsburg, Sept 12—The delegates to the national encampment beat the record to-day They started out to transact a maximum of business in a minimum of time and they well succeeded Just as soon as the welcoming exercises had were closed upon the non-veterans, Henry Watterson was introduced to present the plea of Louisville for the next encampment The silver-tongued orator was in his best mood Among his hearers from pit to gallery laughter alternated with applause and when, in a pathetic moment, he allowed a few tears to course down his cheeks there was a fachrymose response that would have been appropriate to a funeral Before his peroration had been reached the success of the leading city of the Blue Grass State was assured and the orator retired amidst such an ovation as a national encampment has rarely bestowed even upon one of its favorite sons

Close attention was paid by the delegates to the report of the commander-in-chief and the frequent references that it contained to the attitude of the Congress and of the people of the South toward Union soldiers and patriotic movements originating in the North were heartily applauded. The semi-sensational report of the Committee on Legislation was submitted by distribution in printed form and consequently failed to evoke and demonstration

When the report of the Committee on Pensions was read, however, cheers punctuated every paragraph It was in part as follows:

"We feel compelled to say that there is evidently on the part of both the administrative and legislative departments a feeling of hostility to our worthy and suffering comrades, the wards of the nation, who bore the heat and burden of the battle a feeling which certainly should not exist in a country saved by their devotion

"While the Grand Army of the Republic is pledged to purity in public affairs and will, therefore, sympathize and cooperate with any and all proper efforts at economy to the end that all public burdens may be reduced to the minimum, we view with extreme regrets that false economy which shaves and pares to the quick at the expense of honor, justice and patriotism.

"We are confident that the loyal sentiments of the country will condemn a policy that attempts to recuperate the public treasury at the expense largely of the slender purses of our disabled heroes, widows and orphans"

The adoption of the report was moved and seconded by a dozen voices from the body of the house and adopted with a shout.

Again the order of business reverted to location of the next encampment and the invitation of St. Paul was presented in eloquent addresses by ex-Commander-in-Chief Judge John P. Rea and Colonel J N. Davidson But an overwhelming majority of the delegates were still under the spell of the "star eyed Goddess" and when the question was put the viva voce vote in favor of Louisville was so overwhelming that the opposition, instead of demanding a call of the roll, bowed acquiescence and gracefully retired from the field

Upon the call of departments for nominations for commander-in-chief, Colonels Ivan N Walker of Indiana and Thomas G. Lawler of Illinois were named in eulogistic speeches. The election was made a special order for noon of Thursday and the encampment adjourned.

Women's Relief Corps.

Eight hundred delegates and visitors participated in the opening sessions of the twelfth annual convention of the Women's Relief Corps which were held in the Fourth Baptist church.

The report of the national secretary, Mrs. Sarah E. Phillips of Syracuse, N. Y., showed the total membership to be 139,851, a gain of 4151 over the last year's report, number of corps 2696, amount expended for relief during the year $64,-151.

Less than 100 delegates were present at the annual convention of the ladies of the Grand Army, which organization has never received recognition from the national encampment. In her annual address the national president, Mrs. A. J. Wethern of Minnesota, said. "In my opinion this order should never seek adoption as an auxiliary to the G. A. R. or to any other organization. One auxiliary is quite sufficient, and I do not think the G A R. will ever desire to adopt another. It is far better for the Ladies of the G. A. R. to remain as it is now a noble, dignified, independent organization, asking no protection from any other, but working in perfect harmony and sympathy with the G. A. R. and all other societies having the same objects and aims and being responsible to itself only."

Ex-Prisoners of War.

One thousand ex-prisoners of war were in line this afternoon in the annual parade of the organization The reception tendered to-night by the citizens' committee in the big Westinghouse building at Brinton, 10 miles distant, to the delegates, Grand Army visitors and representative citizens, was one of the most brilliant social functions in the history of the State Six thousand guests were present and full dress was "de rigueur." The immense machine shops, with the aid of electricity and bunting galore, had been transformed into a fairy palace, while the banqueting hall almost eclipsed the fabled stories of the Arabian Nights Governor Pattison and McKinley and Confederate General John H Gordon were the especial lions of the occasion

Haverly's Minstrels.

Considerable interest has been aroused among the amusement patrons of this city in the early appearance of the great J. H Haverly's Mastodon Minstrels, and the indications are that the Opera house will be packed next Monday evening. Colonel Haverly has always been the leader in the minstrel line, and organized companies that were far above all others both numerically or artistically speaking This time, however, he advances a step and even outdoes his greatest efforts by presenting a company composed of the cream and pick of the entire minstrel profession, including Burt Shepard, Harry Budworth, Harry Armstrong, Al Gibson, E M. Kayne, Constantine and Lyons, Marion and Pearl, and thirty other finished artists

PROMISING PROSPECTS.

Several New Ones Showing Up in Camp—Father Volpe Contradicts

Special to The Gazette

Cripple Creek Sept 12—N A Altman lessee of the Champion lode on Raven hill has stopped working in the old original shaft and is busily engaged over a new one 75 feet west of the other In this new one he has opened up an 18 inch streak of ore which assays $15 to the ton The shaft will be continued down until connections are made with the old drift and thus provide fresh air below which at present is very bad.

The Ben Harrison lode on Bull hill is being worked by J E Smith of the Moose On this property a shaft has been sunk 90 feet and a four foot vein which runs $70 to the ton in gold, exposed Mr Smith is making arrangements to increase the force of miners at work and expects to make a consignment of ore in a few days

On the Longfellow lode, situated between the Blue Bird and Legal Tender mines a vein of ore was opened up yesterday which shows 18 inches of good looking quartz some of which contains free gold No tests on the ore have yet been made but the vein is thought to be an extension of the Pike's Peak. The property is being worked by Jenkins & Co.

The lessees of the Phoenix lode, one of the properties belonging to the Ramona company and situated in Requa gulch have pretty nearly 20 tons of ore sacked but. When that quantity is obtained a shipment will be made

The Blue Flag on Raven hill, being worked by Dudley O'Mara and Walter Townsend, is showing up a quantity of gold ore and the stuff that is being taken out, by the owners, will return $80 to the ton The men are at present taking out the ore from a 20 foot drift which has been run, at the bottom of the 100 foot shaft, in a northerly direction Messrs O'Mara and Townsend have purchased a boiler and complete steam hoisting plant It is now on its way to camp and will be in running order next week.

A nice vein of crystalized quartz is showing up in the Mohawk Bell lode, owned by the Currency Mining company, and situated on Raven hill. The shaft is down 50 feet and from there a drift has been run in the same distance. The quartz in some cases has particles of free gold upon it. A survey for a patent is being made on the claim.

The new owners of the Chief lode engaged 15 men to-day and have given them orders to start work to-morrow. The new management are making preparations to put in more [illegible] work

Messrs. Ryan and Eaton of the Mayflower Bell lode, situated in Requa gulch are taking pay rock out of their 90 foot shaft which it is claimed will run $300 to the ton. They have already made one shipment to the De Lamar mill but the returns are not yet to hand

The town of Anaconda will be first illuminated by electricity to-morrow night. Wires have been strung from the Cripple Creek plant.

Regarding the statement that Father Volpe has brought suit against the Florence and Cripple Creek railroad, the reverend gentleman, when seen by a reporter said: "I have no knowledge of any suit brought by me against the Florence and Cripple Creek railroad for damages in the accident at Anaconda. I never did or never could claim any damages for the reason that I was traveling on an annual pass The company, however, were very kind to me and paid all expenses that occurred from my injury."

CAUGHT THE THIEVES.

The Fellows Who Robbed Aiken's Store Are Under Arrest.

Marshal Dana and the police have added another feather to their caps in the way of thief takers. They have secured the fellows who robbed the store of J. E. Aiken, and as they said right after the robbery, it was the work of boys. On the night of Sept. 2 the curio store of J E Aiken was robbed of jewelry and other goods to the amount of nearly $1 200 It was the work of a gang of reform school kids. They were suspected immediately and a watch set upon them. Two of the boys, however, managed to get away from the city Their names are Irving and Arthur Dennis Marshal Dana traced them to Pueblo and Trinidad and finally to Topeka. Yesterday they were arrested by Chief Lindsay at Topeka and last night Mr. Dana went to Denver for requisition papers and will leave to-night for Topeka to bring back the youthful burglars.

The third boy is named Arthur Estes. He was arrested here last Tuesday a week ago with about $500 of the stolen goods in his possession. The ferreting out of this robbery brings to light a number of other burglaries which have recently occurred in this city and the marshal's office has considerable plunder traced to these boys Every one of the boys has served a term in the reform school and the officers have proof of their guilt in this case.

INTERVIEW WITH DR KEELEY.

The Business of the Convention Concluded—Harrisburg, Pa., the Next Meeting Place A Big Meeting by the Ladies Last Night

The Keeleyites had a busy day yesterday They had plenty of business and all were trying to get through so that they can have leisure to take in the grand sights in the vicinity. There were their convention sessions, the parade and the various gatherings to be attended The convention concluded its work yesterday afternoon and adjourned sine die The fourth annual session has been a very interesting one, and very profitable to all who have attended

President Smith called the convention to order at 9 30

Rev Dr Gregg made the invocation

The Colorado League then entertained the convention with a new and original song written for the occasion by James Barton Adams, lead by Walter Bourne and accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Insley

President Smith said he was not a presiding officer by birth, and the first delegate that offered an amendment to an amendment would be immediately placed under arrest by the sergeant of the Soldiers' Home, to whom the mayor and chief of police had given that authority. (Laughter)

The reading clerk then read an invitation from the Chamber of Commerce of Harrisburg, Pa., which was also accompanied by a request from the Harrisburg League, and Lancaster, Pa. League.

Telegrams of greeting and regret at not being present were read

Report of Executive Committee was then read

Thomas of Pennsylvania moved adoption of report and appointment of committees as recommended by Executive Committee.

Insley of Colorado objected to that portion of the report disbanding the State leagues, but when it was explained that adoption of the report did not necessarily concur in its recommendations the objection was withdrawn and report adopted.

Report of financial secretary was read.

Maj Haskell, Indianapolis, asked a solid vote of the convention for Harrisburg, Pa., as the next place of meeting.

Johnson of Colorado, Charles E. Banks of Chicago, Shanklin of Missouri and McAllister of Illinois, favored Harrisburg and on motion that city was elected by acclamation

The convention then adjourned until 2 o'clock, which gave the members an opportunity to attend the meeting at the church.

The Resolutions.

The convention re assembled at 2 o'clock and upon motion the rules were suspended and the Resolution Committee reported The resolutions were presented and adopted as follows.

Colorado Springs, Colo. Sept. 12, 1894.

To the President and Members of the Fourth National Convention of the Keeley League

We, your Committee on Resolutions, having discharged the duty assigned to us, beg leave to report as follows:

1. Recognizing Dr. Leslie E Keeley as the instrument of Divine Providence for the redemption of mankind from the drink curse, we acknowledge the debt of gratitude we owe Dr. Keeley, and recognize in him our own, as well as the world's best friend, and declare that drunkenness is a disease, and the Keeley remedy its only cure.

2. As woman has been in a greater degree a sufferer from the miseries entailed by inebriety than even the inebriate himself, so her appreciation of the great blessings which have come to so many thousands of homes through the Keeley cure is keener than even our own. The Woman's Auxiliary Keeley League, representing in the main the mothers and wives sisters and daughters of Keeley graduates, has testified this appreciation by its splendid endeavors to extend the blessings its members have enjoyed into hundreds of homes where it was sadly needed. The Auxiliary has, on this account, our warmest thanks, and we assure them of our hearty co-operation in all their future work in this direction.

3. In view of the publication of a recent article in the Christian Advocate of New York, in which the editor of that paper declares his own belief, and invites ex parte statements in confirmation of that belief, that the Keeley treatment is productive of serious mental or physical injury to those who take it, and in view of the further fact that apprehension of such injury, arising from statements originating with enemies of the Keeley treatment, undoubtedly hinders many from taking it, who would do so if fear of such results could be removed,

This convention, representing as it does more than 200,000 Keeley-cured men, asks that representative newspapers in the great centers of population shall publish in full the letter to the President of this convention of Dr Jones, surgeon of the Western branch N H D V. S, near Leavenworth, Kan; who from his own observation and experience as a physician in no way connected with the Keeley work, but with opportunities for observing its results upon nearly 1,200 men, gathered within that home, declares that not a single death nor a case of physical injury resulted from the treatment, thus fully confirming, without possibility of

A TREATY SIGNED.

JAPAN AND COREA FORMULATE THEIR RELATIONS.

An Alliance of the Two Countries Against China—Japan Bound to Continue the War—Corea Will Assist and Furnish Provisions—Its Advantages.

Washington, Sept. 11.—A telegram was received at the Japanese legation this afternoon to the effect that an important treaty had been negotiated between Corea and Japan, which authoritatively defines the relations of the two countries toward each other and toward China. The object of the treaty is stated in the preamble to the mutual desire on the part of the Emperor of Japan and the King of Corea to definitely fix and determine the attitude of each country toward the other with a view to clearly elucidating the existing relations between Japan and Corea, which have been created by the request which the Corean government has made to the Japanese government to compel the Chinese to evacuate Corea. To secure concerted action for the more effective accomplishment of this object the treaty of an alliance between the two countries was signed at Seoul on the 26th of August by Otori, the envoy of Japan, and the Corean Minister of Foreign Affairs.

The treaty consists of three articles. Article 1 defines the object of the alliance to be the strengthening and perpetuating of the independence of Corea as an autonomous State and the promotion of the mutual interests of Japan and Corea and by obliging China to abandon her claim of the right to dominate the affairs of the country.

Japan Must Make War.

Article 2 binds the Japanese government to carry on warlike operations against China, both offensive and defensive; the Corean government is bound by the article to afford the Japanese forces every possible facility in their movements and to furnish them with supplies of provisions at a fair remuneration, so far as such supplies may be needed.

By article 3 it is provided that the treaty shall terminate so soon as a treaty of peace shall have been concluded in Japan with China.

Mr. Kurino, the Japanese Minister, said regarding the new treaty:

"We have nothing but the announcement of the treaty," said he, "but my inference from its terms is that it will prove highly advantageous to Corea. There has existed there under Chinese auspices the most corrupt system of government known. The constant intrigues of China there have been a threat to the peace of the East. The Japanese government has desired the settlement of this question only for the peace of the East. It has been entirely without expectation of territorial aggrandizement or exercise of suzerainty of Corea.

China's Autonomy Assured.

"With the assistance of autonomy to Corea, which is the design of this treaty, there will be an opportunity for great improvements in her system of government, internal administration and other affairs. Already she has advanced from the condition of the rule of an individual influenced by China and has a Cabinet of six members and a Prime Minister to whom the ruler looks for advice and guidance. This change was made under advice of the Japanese representative at Seoul."

Mr. Kurino said he did not think the treaty could be called a step toward a peaceful settlement with China, as China was tenacious on sentimental grounds of her claim of suzerainty. China might, he said, have put an end to the difficulties before now by consenting to some improvements in Corean affairs.

The improvement in government institutions in Corea, it would be admitted, requires foreign advisers and counselors, and these might be Japanese or might be other foreigners. He did not admit the termination of the present treaty by making peace with China could open the war for a revival of Japan's old claim of suzerainty, which he said Japan had expressly relinquished and would put herself in as bad a position as China by renewing.

"Corea, under the inadequate government that China gives her," he says, "is weak, and other governments, such as Russia, are constantly threatening to come in and seize a portion of her territory and thus cause war in the East. A guarantee of her autonomy will guard against this. All the great powers will be interested together in protecting her from outside attack."

HYPOCRITICAL CANT.

English Investigators Denounced by Governor Northen.

Savannah, Ga., Sept. 12.—In reply to a telegram from the New York World asking his opinion about the visit of a committee of Englishmen to investigate the lynchings in the South, Governor Northen wired as follows:

"Reply to the English committee that I am in a position to know that they have received their information from irresponsible sources and that the English people have declined and refused to be properly informed about our laws and the conduct of our government. The English papers, to my knowledge, have declined time and time again to publish statements made to them in defense of the South by Englishmen who are now residents of the South. Under these conditions we do not want any further outside hypocritical cant upon false ideas of our government.

"The people of this State are quite able to administer their own affairs, and they are doing it in full justice to the negro, as our laws and our conduct attest.

"We have already endured more outside interference in our local matters than we will submissively tolerate in the future. Let these kindly disposed Englishmen return to their own country and prevent by law the inhuman sale of virtuous girls to lustful men in high places; hang all such demons as Jack the Ripper; punish as it deserves the barbarous wholesale slaughter of negroes in Africa by Englishmen, who go there to steal their gold; supply the necessities to prevent bread and labor strikes, which are wholly unknown to the South; feed and give employment to the poor as do the people of my section; give to the oppressed Irishmen the rights of humanity demand, and when they have pulled the beam out of their own eyes, they may with better grace appoint themselves a committee to hunt for the mote that may be in our eyes.

"While we have irregularities in the South, and negroes are sometimes lynched, they are never slaughtered by wholesale as Englishmen sometimes destroy them. I send you by mail the law and record on these matters, and I challenge not only the English committee on lynching at the South, but I challenge the civilized world to find a better. Why come on an investigation to denounce the South just prior to the Congressional elections, when we have just had a negro lynched in Kansas, April 2, and another in Ohio on the Sabbath on April 15, and when the white Poles and Hungarians have recently been butchered in Pennsylvania, and negroes run out of Franklin park, N. J., in herds? We challenge investigations by all persons who have the right to investigate these charges, but any attempt upon the part of Englishmen, tainted by their own national crimes, to arraign us for trial must be considered as a gross impertinence."

WALES AND GAMBLE WIN.

They Beat the Denver Men After a Prolonged Struggle.

Denver, Sept. 12.—The doubles championship in the Rocky Mountain Tennis association goes to Boulder. The Denver men made a good fight for it, and need not be ashamed of the showing they made. Wales and Gamble pulled out the match mainly through their better team work and their excellent smashing. Their play at the net was well-nigh faultless and only the most accurate lobbing game, combined with the best passing could have beaten them. Denckla lobbed continually and fairly well, but the Boulder men are taller than the average and the lobs were short enough for them to handle them with comparative ease. Graham played a swift volley game throughout and his returns generally scored a point for his side when they crossed the net.

It took twenty games to finish the first set and several of them were very long ones. At one time the Denver men were within a point of winning it, but Wales and Gamble braced and took the necessary games, 11-9. They had easier work the second C 1, but could not prevent the Denver team taking the third to the same score. The fourth set went to Boulder after a hard tussle over some of the games and the match, 11-9, C 1, 4-6, 6-3.

There was some disappointment that Austin, the Omaha man, did not remain, but it would have been extremely improbable that he should have lived this far in the tournament, as the two Boulder men, through whom he must played, would have proven his superiors. The Colorado Springs crack team, Fellday and Evans, will probably play an exhibition game on Saturday afternoon with Graham and Moore, representing the D. A. C. They were unable to attend the tournament.

FITZSIMMONS AND CORBETT.

Many People Believe the Middleweight Could Give Jim a Good Argument.

During these days of wordy warfare between Champion James J. Corbett and Peter Jackson there are many people who believe that Bob Fitzsimmons, the middleweight champion of the world, could give Corbett the best argument he ever had in the ring. Fitzsimmons has been called a pugilistic freak. He is so peculiarly constructed that he can do battle in the middleweight class, although he has the height and reach and—when he wishes to take it on the weight of a heavyweight. He is built about the same as Corbett and has the same lightning quickness and is a shifty boxer and a good ring general.

About 3½ years ago Fitzsimmons landed in America practically unknown and without money. He came from Australia in search of the American dollar and pugilistic glory. He had defeated Slade, the Maori; Bill Slavin and Jim Hall before coming here, but had no reputation to speak of. Soon after he landed in Frisco, however, he proved himself a promising two handed fighter by whipping Billy McCarthy in nine rounds and Arthur Upham in five. He was then matched to fight Jack Dempsey for the middleweight championship of the world and $12,000. He easily bested the champion in 13 rounds at New Orleans, Jan. 14, 1891. Since then he has defeated Peter Maher, Jim Hall and Joe Choynski with comparative ease, although Choynski had him nearly out during their battle in Boston recently.

Fitzsimmons is a blacksmith by trade. He was born in Cornwall, England, 32 years ago and is 6 feet 45 inch tall. When he fought Jim Hall for $40,000 in New Orleans March 8, 1893, he weighed 165 pounds and won the big purse in 15 minutes, but failed to get all the money. He is just Corbett's height and would weigh about 10 pounds less than Corbett in the ring. A meeting between Corbett and Fitzsimmons would attract as much attention in sporting circles as the long delayed battle between Corbett and Jackson.

BOB FITZSIMMONS.

Laying a Cable.

It may not be generally known that, when a ship is laying a telegraph cable, constant communication is maintained between the ship and the cable station on shore where the first end of the cable has been landed.

Primarily this is for the purpose of ascertaining that the portion of cable already "paid out" is in perfect condition. The end of the cable on board is kept attached to "testing" instruments, which indicate the existence of the slightest fault in the cable between the ship and the shore. By replacing the "testing" instruments with "signalling" instruments, messages can be transmitted from and to the ship. Advantage is taken of this to keep the people on board well posted in what is going on in the world, a summary of news being sent them as occasion offers. Liverpool Mercury.

ITS DORMANT RICHES

MINOR UNEMPLOYED RESOURCES OF THE NEW SOUTH.

Hints to the Settler and Investor—Wealth that Awaits Both Capital and Labor. Sure Reward for the Intelligent and Industrious. A Roseate Picture.

[Special Correspondence.]

New Orleans, Sept. 10. The delegation of southerners representing various industrial enterprises who recently visited New York for the purpose of eliciting public interest in the further development of the resources of this section of the country have doubtless made an auspicious beginning. In presenting their statistics concerning crops and cotton mills, the cheapness and abundance of land, the fertility of the soil as compared with that of the west and its adaptability to white as well as negro labor, the mineral wealth that is buried in the hills and valleys from Virginia to Alabama and the extraordinary profits that have already accrued to the investor they may have aroused fresh interest in the mind of the enterprising northern capitalist, but there is another view to be taken of the matter.

We want working men and women, small farmers, industrious immigrants who know how to handle the plow and hoe. We want men in every state who are familiar with tools, mechanism and some of the simpler chemical processes whereby may be rescued from waste materials that grow wild in our fields and swamps and may be transformed into valuable products. To these the south pledges no small share of its latent wealth.

It is true that the current of population as well as capital has been flowing to the northwest for many years. A salient reason for this result is to be found in the enormous advertising, accompanied by the inducements of almost free prairie lands offered by the great railroads which penetrate that vast region, but how can these compare to a soil that quickly yields to the touch of the intelligent laborer textile fibers and grains, silks, seeds, oils, gums, resins, dyes, albumen, sugar, vegetable acids, phosphates, starch, liquors, burning fluid, material for making paper and cordage, barks, medicines, wood for tanning, shipbuilding, engraving, furniture and implements and utensils of every description? What other portion of the country can furnish a richer supply of indigenous products grape, sorghum, tannin, opium, flax, mustard, castor oil, turpentine, potash, soap and medicinal substances that are useful at home and profitable to the manufacturer?

Variety of Soil and Climate.

From Maryland to Florida, from Tennessee to Texas, there is to be found every variety of soil and climate. The Atlantic slopes, with their marine growth, the mountain ridges of Virginia, North and South Carolina and Georgia, the almost infra-tropical productions of south Florida, Alabama and Louisiana, and the rich alluvia of the water courses in every southern state, all contribute to the wonderful exuberance of vegetation. In rock and tree and shrub and flower are hints that may be turned to purposes of need, utility, medicine, art, science and mechanics; hints to the farmer and planter; hints to the domestic manufacturer and suggestive to the intelligent newcomer who proposes to make the south his home.

Leaving out of consideration such staples as coal and iron, which require large capital to move, observe the numerous lesser articles that may be utilized and made marketable products by small farmers and those who know how to manage workshops.

The common sorghum plant or sugar cane produces sugar, molasses and an alcohol which possesses an agreeable taste somewhat resembling noyau. The stalks may be given to horses and cattle, who will commence eating at one end and never leave them until entirely consumed. The fibrous portion is adapted to the manufacture of paper, especially that which requires toughness, like bank notes and wrapping paper, while the parched and ground seeds make an excellent substitute for coffee nearly as good as the best Java.

Rice, aside from its value as a money crop, supplies starch and an admirable flour for bread which was in use by the matrons of the south during the war. Corn, rice and chicory mixed together and ground make another acceptable and marketable substitute for coffee. Common rye, boiled, but not so much as to burst the grain, then dried either in the sun or on a stove, after which it is ready for parching, can hardly be distinguished from genuine coffee and commands a good price in the country stores.

The production of tea in South Carolina and Georgia has already passed beyond the experimental stage and bids fair to become a source of great profit. It readily finds sale at $1 a pound. During the war we used buckthorn tea as a substitute for black tea. Of oranges, lemons and citrons and the numerous uses to which they may be applied in the manufacture of essences, acids and drinks it is unnecessary to say a word.

In 1825 a southern planter made from the castor oil bean 500 gallons, and in 1831 his product exceeded 13,000 gallons. It was then a profitable business at $1.50 a gallon. In 1862 it sold from $8 to $11 a gallon, and with its enormous consumption and simple cultivation there is no reason why it should not become a very valuable crop. The plant thrives wherever Indian corn will grow, and one bushel of seeds yields five or six quarts, or about 25 per cent of the best oil.

A chemist who would come south and engage in the manufacture of medical extracts from the numerous articles that are easily attainable in every part of the country ought to make money rapidly. Our army surgeons found in many plants valuable properties before unknown. Cotton-seed tea, for instance, was discovered to be almost a specific for the cure of fever and ague. The bark of the dogwood was also used with great advantage in place of quinine in fevers. The sweet gum and leaves of the myrtle were found to act as powerful astringents, while opium, mustard and flaxseed could be produced by every planter. The native tonics, like gentian and other aromatic plants, are to be found everywhere.

Variety of Woods.

It is unnecessary to dwell upon the value of our native woods for all the purposes of the manufacturer and mechanic the cypress and cedar for shingles and staves, ironwood for wheels, mill cogs and tools; the white beech, sweet birch, red maple, mountain mahogany, white oak, persimmon, taking high polish; holly, mountain laurel, admirably adapted to the wants of the engraver; locust and numerous other woods, readily obtained near the place of manufacture, consumption and exportation.

In this connection a single specialty may be suggested. Neat and well fashioned shoes, made in portions of South Carolina during the exigencies of war from the black gum or tupelo, quickly proved their worth, especially among the negroes engaged in wet localities. They were perfectly secure against the penetration of water, were light and easy to wear and could be worn with or without stockings. Withal they combined such durability as to last almost a lifetime, with a cost of but 25 to 30 cents. What is to prevent the reopening of this field of enterprise and its enlargement to vast proportions?

THE NEXT ELECTIONS

THE HOME MARKET BULLETIN REVIEWS THE SITUATION.

Republicans Must Not Be Too Confident, but Should Work Hard—Thirty-three United States Senators To Be Elected. Harmony and Hard Work Essential.

All the members of the next congress are to be elected on Nov. 6 Legislatures are to be chosen in August, September and November, which will have the election of 33 United States senators. If either house becomes Republican, further bad legislation can be blocked. In the event of a strong Republican verdict it is probable that even the present congress will not succeed in passing anything very damaging during the short session that will remain for it.

There is a feeling that the Republicans are going to sweep the country this year, and they will if they try But here are a few figures which show that it will not do to be too confident. There are 356 members in the present house, of whom only 128 are Republicans. It will be seen that there is a great deal to overcome. The Democrats expect to hold nearly or quite all of their 120 from the south. If they hold them all, they will need to get only 50 more from 28 northern states to hold a majority. The Republicans must carry three to one of the northern districts in order to gain control.

But as a large number of Democrats in the present house received only small pluralities and as public opinion has undergone a revolution it is believed that every close district will go Republican this year if proper attention is given to it. A Democratic loss throughout the north proportioned to that sustained in special elections in New York and Ohio districts this year to fill vacancies will make the next house strongly Republican. Besides we expect some gains in the south.

The Populists, who have 14 members of the present house, expect to have at least 40 in the next. This calculation, however, is all in the air. Populism is on the wane in the country districts since the railroad strike, and our advices from Kansas, Nebraska and the Dakotas are that the Republicans are likely to gain two-thirds of all that the Populists lose. In the large cities, however, the Populists now seem likely to win the striking labor vote from the Democrats. This may be contemplated with serenity, because the change will only be to another alias. It is only when they win votes from the Republicans that the country is endangered. Should they have 40 members, mostly won from the Republicans, they would have the balance of power in the next house, and in case the presidential election should be thrown into the house the situation would be at least disquieting.

Those senators whose terms expire with the present congress are as follows: Morgan of Alabama, D.; Berry of Arkansas, D.; Wolcott of Colorado, R.; Higgins of Delaware, R.; Colquitt of Georgia, D.; Shoup of Idaho, R.; Cullom of Illinois, R.; Gear of Iowa, R.; Martin of Kansas, D.; Lindsay of Kentucky, D; Caffery of Louisiana, D.; Frye of Maine, R.; Hoar of Massachusetts, R.; McMillan of Michigan, R.; Washburn of Minnesota, R.; Walthall of Mississippi, D.; Power of Montana, R.; vacancy to be filled; Manderson of Nebraska, R.; Chandler of New Hampshire, R.; McPherson of New Jersey, D.; Ransom of North Carolina, D.; Dolph of Oregon, R.; Dixon of Rhode Island, R.; Butler of South Carolina, D.; Pettigrew of South Dakota, R.; Harris of Tennessee, D.; Coke of Texas, D.; Hunton of Virginia, D.; vacancy in Washington; Camden of West Virginia, D.; Carey of Wyoming, R.; vacancy to be filled.

Here are 14 Democrats and 16 Republicans, with three vacancies in states now partly represented by Republicans. Rhode Island has already elected a Republican successor to Mr. Dixon, and Oregon has chosen a legislature which will re-elect Mr. Dolph. Glancing over the list, not a seat now held by a Republican looks shaky, and on the contrary there is reason for believing that all the vacancies will be filled by Republicans, and that protectionists, if not Republicans, are likely to come from Alabama, New Jersey and West Virginia, with the possibility of one from Tennessee. But in any event the senate will be close, and the Populists now there will continue to receive attention far beyond their merits unless they improve by experience.

The obvious lesson of the foregoing facts for Republicans to observe is that we must work to win. It is important to look after all the close districts, south as well as north. It is a mistake to treat the south or even our large cities as foreign countries or hopeless fields. Every candidate who will not declare for adequate and impartial protection should be opposed, and if he is opposed vigorously there will be a good many surprises.

Another important lesson of the hour is harmony. Men who are Republicans in the main should be wholly so this year. It was third partyism and side issues which gave the country to the Democracy in 1892, and what a fearful price the people have paid for it! Republicans will never join any other party so long as the country or the prosperity of the people is in danger. Therefore the few who have undertaken to "smash the Republican party" in order to absorb it should first smash the Democrats, the Populists, the prohibitionists and every other element which, through combination with the others, is a national menace. The people have been brought near enough to danger this year so that they will have little patience with those who make diversions when all good men should stand in line. Let all the new hopes go until we have made freedom, peace and prosperity secure

WEST VIRGINIA FOR PROTECTION.

Three Hundred Years Ago This Policy Was Born on Virginia Soil.

The question of protection for wool and manufactures thereof seems to have occupied the attention of the lawmakers in the American colonies in the very beginning of their history As early as 1609 the colonists of Jamestown, Va., were provided with sheep, which did not increase very rapidly in consequence of their destruction by wolves, so that in 1618, 39 years after their first introduction, the number of sheep in the whole colony of Virginia was only 3,000 The first evidence of government protection for wool was in an enactment passed in 1657, setting forth that no sheep be transported out of the colony except upon such penalties as may be thought fit by the governor and the council, and in 1662 Virginia, by a statute, not only prohibited the exportation of wool, but offered a bounty as an encouragement to the raising of sheep and the establishment of woolen manufactures by offering five pounds of tobacco (at that time Virginia currency) for every yard of woolen cloth made in the colony.

Thus protection was born on Virginia soil. The principle of protection to American industries was again recognized in 1664, when, with a view to diversifying industries, the general assembly of Virginia, at the public expense, established in each county looms for weavers. In 1668 a law was passed for the purpose of better converting wool, flax and hemp into clothing. The commissioners of the county courts were given authority to build houses for the instruction of poor children in the art of spinning and weaving.

And to further promote these objects laws were enacted in 1682 imposing heavy penalties upon the exportation of wool, and for the encouragement of the working up of wool into cloth a bounty of six pounds of tobacco was provided for every person making a yard of woolen cloth, or linsey woolsey, three-fourths of a yard wide, and for every dozen pairs of men's or women's woolen or worsted hose a bounty of 12 pounds of tobacco was offered. The price of wool was fixed at 8 pence per pound for fleeces, washed before shearing. In 1687 Virginia passed an act for the encouragement of domestic manufactures, including those from wool, which was rejected by the king as hostile to English interests, for in her colonial policy England was always selfish and cruel a sow that devoured her own litter.

FREE COAL AND TAXED SUGAR.

"The Consumer Pays the Tax," Say the Democrats. So See What It Means.

In considering the effect of free coal and a tax upon sugar it must be remembered that, according to the Democratic theory, the consumer pays the tax.

Our imports of coal in 1892 were 1,364,817 tons, upon which was collected a duty of 75 cents per ton, or a total of $1,023,613 in a single year. This is the extent of the relief that would be accorded to the American people by free coal.

Our consumption of sugar last year was 4,343,209,500 pounds, which, at an average price of 2¾ cents per pound, would be worth $119,438,261. An ad valorem tariff of 40 per cent upon this amount would be $47,775,304. A differential duty of one-eighth cent upon 4,843,209,500 pounds would be $5,429,012, making a total breakfast table tax of $53,204,316.

Free coal would thus, according to the Democratic theory of the consumer paying the tax, effect a saving to the people of $1,023,613, or 1¾ cents per capita, while taxed sugar would cost them $53,204,316, or 77 cents for every man, woman and child in the country. The direct loss by such Democratic legislation would have been 75¾ cents for every individual, a total additional burden of $52,180,703 a year.

A Protection Against Dogs.

A Saratoga county clergyman has discovered a method of protection against the attacks of strange dogs. He was walking a street one day when a large and apparently ferocious canine came toward him growling and showing his teeth and otherwise giving evidence of a disposition to do him bodily harm. All attempts to drive the animal away proved futile. At last a happy idea struck the reverend gentleman, and he proceeded to put it into execution. He carried an umbrella, which he opened suddenly in the face of the dog The belligerent attitude of the dog changed instantly, and putting his tail between his legs he slunk away, Whenever after that the clergyman was compelled to pass that way and the dog was in evidence, the latter kept at a safe distance and never even so much as barked or growled at the passer-by. The clergyman has tried the experiment with many other dogs since that time and reports that it never has failed to put the animals to flight, no matter how ugly they appeared to be. The umbrella defense is certainly worth remembering if one carries the umbrella. Albany Express.

Missouri Pacific.

THE WORLD REVOLVING ON ITS AXIS

Once every twenty-four hours finds the works of man from day to day improving on the old ideas of the passing century; and to-day, the new Union station at St. Louis, Mo., is attracting more attention than any improvement that has been offered to the travelling public by the railways of America since the first conception of steam as a motive power. The Missouri Pacific railway, fully abreast with the progress of the times offers to the traveler between the East and West, the quickest and best route, and all the luxuries and comforts of modern railway improvements. All of its trains enter the grand new Union station. Only one change of cars between Colorado and the Atlantic seaboard. When you go East, be sure that your ticket reads via the Missouri Pacific railway, and do not miss the opportunity to see this depot.

THE BEST ROUTE EAST.

Remember the Missouri Pacific railway connects with all trains in the grand new Union station at St. Louis, Mo. Take the Missouri Pacific government fast mail when journeying eastward, and see the largest and finest Union station in the world.

REPUBLICAN CONVENTIONS.

Friday, Sept. 14—Second Congressional district, at Pueblo.

THE STATE TICKET.

The Republican must indeed be hard to please who will not give a hearty approval to the ticket placed in [illegible] by the State convention. Further, [illegible] there is no citizen of any party, anxious to redeem the credit and reputation of Colorado who need hesitate about giving his cordial support to the [illegible] of the Republican ticket.

It is an evidence of the way in which people feel the importance of the issues of the [illegible] that they have watched with such intense interest the [illegible] contests and [illegible] voters over the selection of the candidates. There was never a time in the history of the State when so much depended upon the [illegible] of the [illegible] and never before was there so much satisfaction over the result.

It is too often the case in political conventions that personal ambitions and [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] to [illegible] in which the good of the party and of the State are lost sight of. In the present instance, fortunately, this has not been the case. There has been throughout all the proceedings a disposition to study the best interests of party and State and to put personal and sectional preferences in the background. In every instance the friends of the unsuccessful candidates are eager for the success of the ticket and ready to help in its election.

[illegible] [illegible] nominations and the fine names already put upon the ticket by the State convention are [illegible] satisfactory. We may safely trust the State convention to complete its work and the Judicial, Congressional and Senatorial conventions to do theirs in the same spirit of harmony and patriotism. With such a ticket the fight is already half won and it will only need good work and vigilance to accomplish deliverance from the abomination of Populism with which we have been cursed.

AN EXCUSATION FOR WAITE.

The Review of Reviews enters a protest [illegible] of a too frequent use of the word "anarchist." It very truly says that the anarchist is an enemy of human society and as such is deserving of general contempt and hatred, and that the public mind ought always to be in such a frame that the anarchist should no sooner be recognized than punished and made incapable of [illegible]. If the term is used to apply to all who differ with us in sentiment upon public matters, the public will soon [illegible] to look upon the anarchist with the same sense of [illegible] once which we [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] to all [illegible] faith.

But while The Review [illegible] entirely right [illegible] its rule [illegible] those whose acts and teachings [illegible] [illegible] of the principles and practices of anarchy. The essence of anarchy is impatience of and resistance to law, and that spirit is to be condemned wherever found. For instance it has become something common in Colorado to refer to the Governor of the State as an anarchist, and the use of that term is entirely justifiable because the Governor has openly [illegible] and willfully violated the laws and the constitution of the State, to-wit: by ordering the militia to fire upon the sheriff and his deputies if they sought to prevent the arrest of criminals for whom [illegible] warrants were outstanding. Nobody supposes [illegible] Governor Waite is an all around anarchist, or that he has formulated in his mind a state of society in which society should not exist. But in his disregard of personal and property rights, in his [illegible] of anything that [illegible] stood in the way of accomplishment of his purposes, he is [illegible] by the same spirit which [illegible] [illegible] the [illegible] streets of Paris. In his position as Governor he does not need to [illegible] to dynamite. He can do worse [illegible] by encouraging lawlessness, by uttering wild foolishness and giving [illegible] protection to [illegible].

The term anarchist then as applied to Waite is not a misuse of the word. However [illegible] he [illegible] he is entitled to all the opprobrium which he [illegible] to it. He is lawless and a law breaker, and all the worse because he occupies the position of chief executive, sworn to enforce and preserve the law.

Albert W. McIntire, the Republican candidate for Governor of Colorado, is a farmer and stock raiser of Conejos county. He is not, however, without experience in public affairs, having served as District Judge from 1882 to 1886. He is also a graduate of Yale college, and may be relied upon to do credit to the State.

Governor North of Carolina makes a mistake in assailing the appointment of the English committee by an allegation that outrages also occur in Northern States. It is well understood that the conditions are different, and even if they were alike it would be so much the worse for the North and none the better for the South.

There is considerable talk in the European dispatches of a reconciliation between the King of Italy and the Pope. What binds to [illegible] to the straits the financial [illegible] of the Italian government. The Pope has the money and [illegible] would be willing to pay liberally for certain concessions.

Sentiment seems to be strengthening in favor of ex-Senator Bowen for the Republican Congressional nomination in the Second district. He would no doubt be a strong candidate and as much superior to Bell as [illegible] to the paper.

Edward Atkinson speaks of the school teachers of the United States as "our true standing army." We are afraid that Mr. Atkinson is inclined to overestimate the importance of the small boy with the bean pea.

Colorado Springs ably demonstrated her right to a [illegible] of Colorado [illegible] by [illegible] it to overflowing Tuesday evening and turning hundreds of people away who were unable to obtain admission.

The new art book "Ancient Missions and Churches of America" is proving a success and all who have seen it are delighted. Coupons will be found in today's Gazette.

The most successful season the Casino ever had is drawing to a close. Unlike the melon crop the early frosts don't hurt the music one bit.

The address of welcome which Dr. Robinson gave to the Knights Tuesday evening was one of the best ever delivered in this city.

[illegible] majority is the most [illegible] there [illegible] in a [illegible] State for a long time.

Professor Ely's Teachings.

Professor Ely invariably denies that he is a Socialist. [illegible] Dr. Johnson always wrote his parliamentary reports so as to "let the Whig dogs get the worst of it," so Professor Ely always [illegible] his lectures so as to leave in the minds of the majority of his hearers, despite his [illegible], a very strong impression that the [illegible] out of joint, and that nothing but radical [illegible] of the industrial [illegible] will set them right. In all that is, he sees injustice and this injustice he attributes not to innate characteristics of fallible human nature, but to existing political and social institutions. He evidently believes that institutions can be fundamentally altered off-hand to the certain benefit of mankind. He has failed to [illegible] history that all institutions of value are gradual developments. Undertaking to teach the science of political economy, he busies himself chiefly with those [illegible] which are the subject of controversy, instead of [illegible] [illegible] on what has been established to the [illegible] of his teaching.

The investigation of Professor Ely's case should be conducted on a plane high above personal feeling. As an individual he is entitled to [illegible]. But there are many worthy persons who are practically unfitted for service in the faculties of institutions of learning.

If the investigation proves that Professor Ely is instilling political heresies in the young minds committed to his care, the Board of Regents will have no course open to it but to remove him, no matter how high he may stand in the personal regard of the members. The State cannot maintain a propaganda directed against the political and social principles embodied in the constitution. If, on the other hand, the current opinion as to the character and tendency of his teaching is [illegible] the investigation will do good to him and the [illegible] by setting him right before the public. —[illegible] Wisconsin, Milwaukee.

A Populistic [illegible].

The renomination of Waite, the Populist of the Populist [illegible], which is having such a [illegible] in the [illegible] for Governor of Colorado makes Coloradans who are in the East blush [illegible] heads in shame. [illegible] however, to beat the [illegible] at the polls, and to effect this desirable end I am assured that Democrats and Republicans who have substantial interests in Colorado and who respect its good name will cooperate without regard to any other consideration.

The general understanding is that the Republican [illegible] is the [illegible] available to break the back of Populism and the reputable Democrats therefore will vote the Republican ticket. An earnest of this laudable intention is given by the declination of one of the [illegible] Democrats in the State to accept a Democratic nomination for Supreme Court Judge, the ground of his declination being briefly and distinctly stated in the declaration that he expects to vote with the Republicans this year. (Major Handy in New York Mail and Express.

Noting the fact that the Montana Republicans had declared strongly for silver, the Chicago Herald, a most vindictive Democratic sheet, says:

"[illegible] the Republican party is the party to which the [illegible] [illegible] should look for favors."

And additional:

"The Democratic party is not of that kind. It believes in equal opportunity [illegible] equal shelter of the laws for all [illegible], and no special legislation for any individual or any class."

That shows conclusively that the Chicago Herald knows nothing of silver whatever or of the silver question [illegible] what the effects of [illegible] would be upon every industry in the United States. At the same time it is probably the [illegible] Democratic newspaper in the West. (Salt Lake Tribune.

It Continues to Grow.

The Colorado Springs Gazette has changed its "make-up" from an eight column folio to a [illegible] quarto and is thereby greatly improved in appearance. The change was made necessary by the Gazette's growing constituency. May the Gazette continue to grow. (Cripple Creek Herald.

KEELEY CONVENTION

dispute, the claims of the discoverer, Dr. Leslie E. Keeley, as to its harmlessness to the human system.

4. That we most earnestly invite the co-operation of the churches and their ministers, as well as all temperance organizations, in disseminating throughout the land the knowledge of the efficiency of the Keeley Remedy, as well as in our own efforts to restore those who have fallen through the evils of liquor and drugs.

5. The cordial hospitality extended to us by our Colorado brethren, and in particular the Keeley graduates and the citizens of Colorado Springs must not be passed by in silence. It has been accepted in the spirit in which it was offered, and has been bestowed; and we can say no less, and need say no more, than that we shall carry with us to our homes a remembrance of them and of their beautiful city, which will endure while life continues.

W. MIFFTIN-SMITH, Chairman.
WM. J. HASKELL.
O. SHANKLIN.

The committee on revision of the constitution reported and, after considerable debate the constitution was revised as follows: Section 3 of Article 4 was struck out. By this change the local leaguer must make monthly reports and local leagues can act directly with the national association. Section 12 of Article 4 was changed so as to require a tax of 20 cents on each new member admitted during the quarter. Section 1 of Article 5 was amended so as to increase the membership in the national convention. Hereafter local leagues will be entitled to two delegates for the first 25 members and one for each 25 thereafter.

By a vote it was decided that a committee of five should be appointed to prepare a new constitution and by-laws for adoption at the next meeting.

The constitution was revised and allows the president a salary of $1200 a year, and the secretary a salary of $2,500 a year.

By vote the time of meeting of the national league hereafter will be in August and the Executive Committee will fix the time.

The convention next proceeded to the selection of officers. Gillespie of Iowa, in a very flattering speech nominated Col. A. J. Smith for re-election, and moved that it be made by acclamation. This was done with a whoop. Col. Smith stepped forward and thanked the convention.

The following officers were then selected by acclamation: First Vice President, A. H. Buckhardt of Illinois; Second Vice President, Edgar G. Williams of Boston; Third Vice President, Wm. M. Smith of Pennsylvania.

Thomas E. Barry was renominated for secretary-treasurer by Col. Reed in a complimentary speech. He was elected unanimously, and being called upon made a speech full of interest and suggestion.

The following were then selected as the Executive Committee: W. G. Dustin of Illinois, John Gillespie of Iowa, Col. Brown of Mississippi, Capt. C. V. Noble of Colorado, O. M. Shanklin of Missouri.

Upon motion it was decided that the old committee of three on revision of the constitution should be retained and two added. The chair appointed as the additional men Charles Eugene Banks and Dr. A. W. Reese.

A Committee on Transportation was appointed for next year composed of Secretary Barry, N. A. Reed, J. J. Lander of Indiana, and G. W. Vallery of Denver.

Mr. Reed was given the privilege of reading a paper prepared by a lady and which advocated several legislative measures.

A vote of thanks was given Capt. Insley, Maj. Insley, the ladies of the league and the citizens.

The Pennsylvania people gave their banner to the State league as a memento.

Col. Smith made a few remarks, thanking the convention for its courtesies, etc., and the convention then adjourned sine die.

At the Coliseum.

There was another fine audience at the Coliseum last night. There were about 2,000 people in the building to hear the entertainment under the direction of the women. Before the exercises proper began an exhibition was given of the initiation exercises as practiced at the old Soldiers' Home. The graduates were ranged in line and the ladies pinned their badges on. Then Col. Smith gave them an address. It was pretty and effective.

Rev. S. C. Bronson of Burlington, Ia., was then introduced and gave a short talk that was the best thing of the convention. It was an answer to the article of Dr. Buckley in The Advocate, but it had a number of excellent suggestions.

The M. O. Barnes Glee Club sang two numbers in fine style and received quite an ovation.

Mrs. O. F. Boyle of Durango, the State president, read a paper on "Woman as Helpers." It was well delivered and well received, and had many practical suggestions.

Mr. J. C. McCoombs gave the solo, "Dreams," by Strelezki, with mandolin and piano accompaniment by Mrs. Insley and W. H. Reynalds. It was one of the gems of the evening.

Mrs. Newcomb of Minneapolis, State organizer, gave a 10-minute talk that was eloquent and interesting. She brought greeting from the white ribbon movement.

Mrs. C. H. Frowine of Manitou was the next musician. She sang "At Vespers," by Tosti. It was a brilliant performance, and the audience was greatly pleased. Mrs. Insley was the accompanist.

Mrs. Ida B. Cole, the national secretary, was the last speaker. She is a charming person on the platform, and evidently means what she says. Her talk was listened to with great interest.

Dion de Romandy gave a violin solo, playing "Ole Folks at Home." The performance was well received and merited the applause bestowed upon the performer.

Just before adjournment Mrs. Ives, the State president of Illinois, stepped forward and presented Mrs. Ida B. Cole a handsome gold watch. It came from the women of the league in recognition of her hard work. The watch is suitably engraved.

The meeting then adjourned.

The Parade.

The Keeley people assembled at the Coliseum yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock and formed a line of parade. Maj. Insley was in command and moved the parade promptly on time. The parade moved on to Tejon from Kiowa and then down to Huerfano, and then to the Antlers. There Dr. Keeley joined the procession and was escorted to the Baptist church. The parade was headed by Marshal Dana and a platoon of police. Then came the Soldiers' Home Band of 22 pieces. The G. A. R. Reception Committee came next, and were followed by the veterans of the Soldiers' Home, who were loudly cheered as they passed along. The La Junta Band headed the next division, which was made up of visitors from out of town. The Pennsylvania boys marched at the head. The Firemen's Band came next at the head of the Colorado Leage. The parade was not long, but was bright with colors and music, and was quite impressive.

An Interview With Dr. Keeley

A representative of The Gazette had the pleasure of an interview with Dr. Leslie E. Keeley yesterday in which he discussed his remedy quite freely. The Doctor is a very pleasant gentleman to meet. The Doctor first desired to correct the report of a statement made by him in his lecture, and which was not reported exactly as he said it. His exact words were:

"In the past ages when people did not know what to take as a remedy for sickness they flew to alcohol as a panacea. These common people builded better than they knew, as alcohol proved to be the best microbe killer they could have used. They then learned to rely upon it for every disease and made it the universal drug. They were as excusable as were the doctors in all ages of the world up to 15 years ago, as they did not know the cause of disease up to that time, and could only give remedies empirically as to what might aid them in the treatment of sickness. The teachings of that day hold good to-day."

The question was asked: "How long, Doctor, has this microbe theory been established as a fact?"

"Only about five years, although it was discovered 15 years ago. To-day in any court of law no medical book is received as authority that was written longer than five years ago. All medical books written before that time are only fit for lighting fires in the morning, and hardly that, as they make poor kindling wood."

Dr. Keeley says the use of the remedy is spreading rapidly. During the past week they have received overtures from the French Government regarding the introduction of the treatment there. He said that he finds that the hostility of the medical profession growing out of the fact that it is a secret remedy is dying out. He believes that most of those who have taken the trouble to examine are convinced now that if the formula had been given to the world that there would not to-day be an unadulterated bottle of the medicine in existence. He holds that the secret is a protection to the public. In fact, they have discovered that most of the fake cures that have been established have cured their patients by using some of the Keeley home remedies until they got a reputation, and then they fell off and went out of existence. For that reason they have decided not to sell the home remedies at the local institutes hereafter. There are now 120 branch institutions in the United States and Canada.

It is very interesting to hear Dr. Keeley tell of his discovery. He was for nearly 30 years experimenting. Whenever and wherever he could get a chance he experimented, and the formula grew out of his successes and failures. He studied and worked hard over the problems. He had to first convince himself that drunkenness is a disease. In fact it never had a pathology until he gave it one. Then he had to experiment to determine that it was not an inherited disease. He made up his mind that it was poison in the system, and did not exist beyond the cradle, or at least, might be pre-natal only in exceptional cases. They started their institution a number of years ago, but it is only in the last three or four that it has become so widely known. The Doctor says that they have been able to keep track of one patient who took the cure 14 years and six months ago. He is alive and well and sober now. They know of three who are 11 years' graduates, and 15 or 20 who are 10 years' graduates. When asked as to what is to become of the secret after his death, the Doctor said that it was the property of The Keeley Company, organized under the laws of Illinois, and he could not say as to that, but the world would not be deprived of it."

THE WOMEN.

They Had a Large Part in the Proceedings Yesterday.

The women had a large part in the exercises yesterday. In the afternoon Dr. Keeley delivered an address before them at the First Baptist church. In the evening they had a meeting at Coliseum Hall almost as large as the Keeley emeting the night previous.

Yesterday the women devoted to their business meeting and to hearing addresses and reports. Thy will conclude their business to-day by the selection of officers.

At the meeting held at the church Mrs. Saxon presided and after calling the meeting to order introduced Dr. Keeley. He read an address of great interest on "Woman as a Reformer."

Mr. Lyle Saxon followed in a song, accompanied by Mrs. Insley. He has a pleasing tenor voice, and sings well.

Secretary Barry of the Keeley League talked for a few minutes on late Keeley literature. The men who have taken the treatment owe a debt to society which they can best pay by assisting others.

The men left the room to go to their own meeting, and the women continued their meetings.

A Severe Ordeal.

The two ladies had not met for some time, and they were vitally interested in each other's welfare.

"I hope your health is better than when I saw you last," said the first.

"No; I grow worse every day," responded her friend despondently.

"Too bad, too bad. What seems to be the matter?"

"No one knows, and the doctors say they cannot tell till after the post mortem."

"Why, how awful! You poor, dear thing! In your weak state you can never live through that." Life.

Colorado Springs Exchange.

Colorado Springs, Sept. 12—A rattling good morning's business was done on 'change to-day. Over 28,500 shares changed hands, the chief sellers being Alamo, Consolidated and Summit Mollie Gibson continues to increase in price though the bid price for big lots is not so high—the best being $1 15 for 3000 The 8.0 sales were sold in lots from 50 to 500, $1.25 being the price. Messrs.—Bolles and Hopkins and Carnduff were the most active with this stock. With A. J. the asked price was decreased 1 cent and this at once closed a sale. Had it dropped another cent there would have been many more sales in it. A bull movement in Alamo was successful in increasing the price of it by three points; it sold to-day at 1¾ and wound up strong at 1¾ and 1¾. Summit was offered at a little lower price than for some days past and all that was offered at 14¾ was snapped up; 10,000 of the pooled stock sold at 12¾. Cripple Creek Consolidated is in better demand and is selling at increased figures, some idea of its standing may be gleaned from the fact that a bid of 1¾ for 10 000 brought about no results. Isabella sold at 12 and now stands at 11½ bid.

The second call proved the busiest one, for an afternoon call, ever yet held. Mollie Gibson, Alamo and Isabella were the active stocks, the former being pushed still higher in price This stock gone up not far short of 50 cents per share since the opening of the Exchange and now stands at $1.32 1-2 asked and $1.27 1-2 bid. One sale of 500 was made at $1.30. Alamo sold at 1 3-8. There were no quotations on Work, Specimen or Ingham but all others remain about the same, with the exception of Isabella which improved a little and was actively traded in, in small blocks At the close of the call Secretary Donaldson announced that, starting with Monday of next week, the afternoon call would start at 3:15 for the convenience of the brokers. The secretary and president also further explained some of the printed rules. The total sales for the day were 35,050.

Curb Sales.

There was a better tone on the curb to-day, several good sales being made. The most active stock was Union, which was selling in large blocks and increased at least 2 cents during the day. Aola continues to be actively traded in. There appears to be a movement on foot to corner large blocks, it is a good scheme, for the mine (the Something Good) is a good one. Jack Pot continues to be a favorite and remains at about the 2-cent mark.

The Denver Pit.

Special to The Gazette.

Denver, Sept. 12.—To-day's business in the pit was the most brisk seen for several days past. Mollie, A. J. and Big Six are all strong but most of the trading was in Work. Mr. Frank Pettingell was in the pit and tried a bull movement on Work, starting to buy at 1⅞, increasing it afterwards to 2 and winding up at 1⅞ The attempt was hardly successful, as they gave him from 35,000 to 40,000 until he cried enough.

Alamo $11 and $12 50 per 1000, 2000, Anaconda 21½ and 22; A. J. 71 and 72½, Bankers 1⅞ and 2, 2000, Bangkok 5 to 6; Big Six 5¼ and 6, Calumet 1⅞ and 2, 6000; Fannie Rawlings 10 asked; Gold Standard 2⅛ and 2½, Isabella 14 asked; Jack Pot 1¾ and 2⅛; Justice 2¼ and 2¾, 1000; Mollie Gibson $1 20 and $1 25, 400; Mt Rosa 4 and 4¼, 3000; Pharmacist 6½ bid; Portland 37½ and 38, 100; Union 14½ and 15¼, 1800, Western Milling $5 and $6, 8000; Work 1⅞ and 2, 40,000; World 1¼ and 1½, 2000

The curb sales are as follows. Isabella 2000 at 13, Pharmacist 1000 at 6¾, Union 1500 at 14, Mollie Gibson 500 at $1 25, Mt Rosa 5000 at 4, Work 10,000 at 1⅞ cents.

Special to The Gazette

Denver, Sept 12 Receipts at the mint to-day were above the average, though that average has, of late, been very high A number of counties contributed towards the general result, headed by Park county with 625 ounces The others were Lake, 17.33 ounces; San Miguel 254 ounces; El Paso 118 ounces (from the De Lamar mill at Lawrence) and 19 ounces from the Westerman placers at Summit.

Current News

Union has made the long-expected turn and is climbing in price at a rapid gait.

The Moose people now employ fifty-five men and shipments average ten cars per month.

The papers to close the Chief-Sun,000 deal were made in this city by Messrs. Danford & Potter.

Mr. Randall, the watchmaker, is going to place a clock in the Mining Exchange for the convenience of the members.

A contract to drive 200 feet in the St. Louis and Cripple Creek tunnel was made yesterday. Work will be started to-morrow.

F. M. Ish, late of the Cripple Creek Crusher, is erecting a nice shaft house on his Mary L. lode. The prospects here are A. 1.

Mr. J. W. Proudfit says that ever since the exchange started that Eastern orders, by letter and wire, have increased wonderfully.

In addition to the sales enumerated in our curb list, those of 5700 Gro Grande at $1 per 1000 and 10,000 Wheel of Fortune, are reported.

The workers in the Grotto lode on the northwest slope of Bull mountain have opened up a nice looking vein of quartz The strike was made in a drift run for that purpose at the bottom of the 90-foot shaft.

G. H Wolfe, who has a year's lease on the Orpha May, is shipping ten tons of ore per day to Denver. The ore is claimed to run $100 to the ton. Mr. Wolfe has three-shifts employed and is working ten men to the shift.

Milo Hoskins & Co, who are working the Gettysburg lode under lease from the Jack Pot company have a 75-foot shaft and 60 feet of drifts. The vein is four foot wide now the ore therefrom is expected to return profits.

Dr. S. P. True of Nevada, Miss., one of the directors of the Lindley Mining and Land company, is in the city looking after the interests of the company. He also has interests at Turkey Creek and will visit that district in the next few days

T O'Brien and John Kelly has opened up a 4-foot vein in the East Dollar lode at the bottom of the 62-foot shaft. The owners have taken out a carload of ore and will ship the same to Denver this week The ore runs from $18 to $20 to the ton.

Messrs Welles & Kane, besides proving themselves to be rustling stock brokers, have also made themselves public benefactors by placing a blackboard outside their office, giving the sales and quotations of stocks on 'change. They are put on as soon as the call is over and will be found a great convenience.

A couple of parties from Kansas City, who had never seen a prospect, recently wandered in the mineral country above Howardsville and have located a property of real merit. They have a modest little streak of ore that will run 15 ounces in gold and several hundred in silver. It takes a tenderfoot to strike it every time.—(Silverton Miner.

Messrs. Bradford & Edwards have struck a body of ore on the Kentucky Belle lode, situated on Raven hill. The lead is running towards the Moose and it is confidently thought to be that vein. This discovery was made yesterday by surface trenching and the strike was made only two feet below the surface. It is a very nice looking streak of ore.

The ore bins at the Beaver Park mill are crowded with ore but still it continues to pour in at a greater speed than it can be handled so it has to be piled in the highway, and there it lies, scattered along the stage road. Last week 80 four-horse teams deposited their loads of ore at the mill so no wonder they are crowded.

Mr. Jas. T. Daily, an expert miner and geologist, from Philadelphia, has returned from an inspection of the properties of the Front Range Gold Mining company Mr Daily expressed himself surprised at the showing this company is making. He thinks every indication is favorable for one of the best paying mines in the country. To Mr. Daily is due the honor of finding the first free gold on this property.

The most important mining deal consummated within the last twenty-four hours is the sale of the Chief on Raven hill, just north of the Ingham for $75,000. The deal was made by Messrs Cohen & Robinson of Canon City to J. Holgate Story, Charles Merrick and others of this city. The improvements on the Chief consist of a 125-foot shaft, a massive shaft house, boiler and complete hoisting plant. The new owners will start a force of men to work this week

Two gentlemen, Messrs. A. D Jones and A. R. Frisbee, who have a six months lease on the Excelsior lode, one of the Anaconda properties, yesterday, at a depth of 10 feet opened up an 8-foot vein of quartz which, it is claimed, will pay from the surface. An assay made last night on the quartz ore gave returns of $813 in gold to the ton and from a streak of talc $36 80 was returned. The lessees will start fifteen men to work to-morrow to sink the shaft and hope by Saturday to have enough ore out to make a shipment to the Beaver Park mill. The ore is free milling.

A. B Jones has taken a lease and bond on the East Chance, which is located on the east side of Gold hill During the heavy rains of this year the road which crosses the Last Chance was scored away to bedrock, exposing a fine lead and Mr. Jones observing it speedily grabbed up the claim. He is sinking a shaft on the vein which shows much of what is known as "blue gouge," which is characteristic of all the Raven hill pay mines Assays increase in value as depth is attained and the Last Chance may be a good mine. —(Crusher.

The Stanley City Mining and Milling company filed articles of incorporation with the Secretary of State yesterday. The officers of this company are Dr. W. Hills, president; P. Mounts, vice-president, B. Boyland, secretary, Thomas Stanley, treasurer, and these gentlemen together with H and F. Ender form the board of directors The company is capitalized at $1,000,000 and own five claims in the Front Range district, including the Gold Eagle, which now has over 100 tons of shipping ore upon the dump. The company also owns a half interest in the Stanley City townsite, and a mill now being erected. They have $4,000 in their treasury to start on. The prospects for the company are very promising and will show that the Front Range district is a mining camp of no mean standing

A TOWN WITH A "JAG."

Colorado Springs has a tremendous jag; it is full to the neck, and it keeps filling up and growing like a weed. Houses to rent are almost out of the question, and they can't be built fast enough to satisfy the demand. It is a good town to tie to and abide in, and the sooner you buy real estate here the cheaper you will get it.

An income of 8, 9, 10 or 15 per cent. is a good thing to have coming into the family, especially if the investment is safe. We offer some good business properties, splendidly located and well rented, that produce such incomes. These investments are worth looking into. The business property of this city is gradually finding its way into the hands of people who take it absolutely off the market, and it is getting harder to buy each year.

We will trade real estate for mining stocks, and have a good list to give you a selection from. We have some good mining stocks to trade for real estate.

We have a new modern house of 9 rooms, every convenience, on one of the best streets in the North End; for $5000, which is about $1000 less than an inexperienced man could have it built for.

A good cottage of six rooms, bath, sanitary plumbing, sewer connection, steel range, electric lights, shades, screens, cellar, on car line, for $2750. Terms $300 cash and $35 per month. It is worth $27.50 per month for rent; so you can see how much cheaper it is to own your own home than to be a tenant.

A SLIGHT RISE IN NEW YORK STOCKS.

Chicago Startled by a Rumor of a New Grain Exporting Country—The Iowa Corn Crop Report Shows a Larger Product Than Was Expected.

New York, Sept 12.—Money on call has been easy at 1 per cent, last loan at 1 and closing offered at 1. Prime mercantile paper 4@4½ per cent.

Operations at the stock exchange continue of a professional character, outside orders being few and far between. At the opening the local traders were bearishly inclined and prices were depressed anywhere from ¼ to 1 per cent. Sugar and the Grangers leading. Cordage common, however, dropped 1¼ to 15 on an unfounded rumor that the company proposed to issue $5,000,000 new stock. The bears were not disposed to press their advantage as the leading corporations are declaring their usual dividends and railway earnings for the first week of the current month are keeping up very well indeed. American Sugar came in for a good deal of attention on account of street stories that there had been considerable discussion at the board meeting yesterday regarding the advisability of declaring 3 per cent on the common at the present time. The stock first declined 1¼ to 103⅝ and then rose to 105⅞, a room trader having bought over 5000 shares on the way up. The buying led to a report that a new bull pool had been formed in the stock. Whisky was heavy and sold down from 16¼ to 15. The stock has been weakened by the announcement that the holders of the rebate vouchers were dissatisfied with the security behind the rebates, had combined for mutual protection.

In the late trading the speculation was firm and the market closed ¼@1¾ per cent. higher on the day except for Burlington and Quincy, Rock Island, Distillers, General Electric and Western Union, which lost ¼ to 1¼. Total sales were 187,699 shares.

The bond market was active and strong. Transactions were $1,814,000.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

Trading Was Dull In a Very Narrow Range.

Chicago, Sept. 12.—The rumored discovery of a new wheat exporting country was reported on the board to-day. The rumor was generally discredited, but nevertheless it assisted materially in depressing prices. It came from New York and was to the effect that a cargo of wheat, amounting to 450,000 bushels had been shipped from Chile to New York. Later the rumor was denied.

Trading was rather dull and the market fluctuated between a very narrow range. It started with a show of strength on steadier cables and moderate receipts; also somewhat influenced by the strength in corn. But the trading was light, resulting in the market selling off to the "put" price. Subsequently prices were forced up on the covering of a short line by local speculators, but the moment the demand was satisfied, the trade being entirely local, prices eased off again.

Receipts both at Chicago and the Northwest were fair, the former having ... cars and the latter 578. On the corresponding day last year Minneapolis and Duluth had 569 cars. Continental cables were generally easier showing declines at Paris and Berlin and unchanged at Antwerp. Export clearances were light at 148,891 bushels, including wheat and flour. Withdrawals from store were light at 54,700 bushels. Towards the close of the session the market strengthened on light estimates for to-morrow and the report from New York that 30 loads of wheat had been taken at the seaboard for exports. December wheat opened at 57⅝, sold between 57⅜@57½, closing at 57⅜@57½, unchanged from yesterday. Estimated receipts for to-morrow 150 cars.

Corn was very nervous from the start to finish to-day with, however, a strong undertone all the time. It started firm on light offerings and a continuation of the bullish feeling assisted by some buying orders from the country. It weakened shortly after and on local offerings caused presumably by the bearish Iowa State crop report. This makes the corn condition 36 per cent and the yield 80,000,000 bushels, the government report putting it at 71,000,000. The State report further adds that the fodder will be so generally saved and used that the fodder and grain together will be equal to a crop of about 60 per cent of an average. Receipts exceeded estimates by 27 cars, 22 cars arriving. The withdrawals from store made 133,313 bushels. Liverpool cables were dull. Reports were very light at 8852 bushels. Prices became stronger towards the close on buying by "shorts" on the light estimated receipts for to-morrow, and in sympathy with wheat. May opened at 56¼@56¼, sold between 58⅝@55¾, closing at 56 unchanged to ⅛ lower than yesterday. Estimated receipts for to-morrow 185 cars.

DR. [illegible] MOTIVE EYESIGHT,

No youth or child should be scientifically fitted with lenses. The rapid loss of eyesight in age can very often be traced to the neglect of the proper care of the eyes in youth, and cheap, poorly-fitted lenses. Errors of eyesight develop most rapidly during school life and should be corrected by accurately-fitted lenses, no matter what the age.

Our optical department is in charge of a graduate, in both the scientific adjustment of lenses and their manufacture, hence a perfect fit of glasses, from $1 upwards.
